

MOVE TO MODULAR

Every great event starts with a great vision. That's the power of Studio Abex. We've staffed our design department with some of the top creative teams in the country and have given them the challenge and the resources to develop exhibit and event solutions that are as functional as they are breathtaking.

Each Studio Abex team consists of a Senior Designer, Project Engineer, and a Senior Graphic Designer so that every Studio Abex exhibit and event solution not only stands out visually but performs flawlessly and communicates your unique message with impact and clarity.

Along with Studio Abex custom solutions, Abex offers one of the broadest lines of portable exhibits and counters for shows and events in the industry, so that you can find the structure that exactly meets your event or show needs. Choose from pop up, fabric panel, laminate panel or hybrid multiple material systems, or, let Studio Abex design and build a custom structure for your next event.

Whichever you choose, you'll enjoy the benefits of portable modular which include lower build cost and reduced storage, transportation and I & D expense.

You'll also rest easy knowing that your structure will be manufactured by a company with over 28 years of experience. Abex displays and structures can be found wherever shows and events take place in over 60 countries on every continent. Every Abex structure is built on quality. We manufacture our own products—even our cases—right here in the USA.
